Message from the President

Slough Business Community Partnership is a unique organisation and I am delighted to be able to champion the organisation and the positive impact it delivers in the community. Why do businesses join SBCP?

Working in partnership with SBCP has exceeded all expectations, as they have made working in the community much easier and far more accessible, exposing many and varied opportunities where we can help out, creating many new and long-lasting relationships. Our colleagues have been able to get out in the community sharing their skills, experience and knowledge making a real and meaningful difference to the surrounding community. The knock on effect has been tremendous with many of our colleagues wanting to follow up and offer continued support to many of the community projects.
